POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Sikeston to its everlasting credit is now a five - star city - the second in the state to receive this hard earned distinction.

Joplin was the first.

The award by the state division of commerce and industrial development will help Sikeston attract new industry. It should be a source of pride to existing industry and citizens. It should help the city attract new residents.

The award itself is of secondary value. What was required to win it is the important thing.

Now that Sikeston has the distinction it should strive to be worthy of keeping it and be eager to forge ahead in now, desirable directions.

Our people should not be deluded into thinking that studio apartment -- New Yorkese for a large closet with mini-kitchen and bathroom -- will climb from $180 to $225.

There are a few flaws in the community's fabric. For one thing the city failed to reach its United Fund goal last year. It fell far short of reaching a fund raising goal for an addition to the Missouri Delta Community hospital. The community's support to Recovery Inc., to improve housing in Sikeston, has not been as robust as it might be.

In the glow of the statewide recognition given our community by the five - star award, citizens might well reflect on their deficiencies and then resolve to do better. Our future is bright if all citizens unite to build a better community but more effort and dedication are required than have been expended in the past.

The award will achieve a constructive result if it kindles a better community spirit.

If it merely bolsters our ego the benefit will be short, lived and relatively empty.

Having the last word may give you satisfaction, but it may also end a friendship.

Oversleeping will never make your dreams come true.

THE EARLY TIMES OF RICHARD NIXON

In talking with a young Republican the other day we suddenly realized that this first - time voter was supporting the Richard M. Nixon of 1968 - the polished and rather shadowy statesman who stands above the fray wife's voice and grocery prices are rising." Moving them to some choice spoonerisms, Mr. Wagner submits: "Shook a tower" for "took a shower." "A 22-year - old voter was just being born the year Mr. Nixon blushing crow" for "crushing blow." "May I sew you to a beat Representative Jerry Voorhis of California by sheet," for "may I show you to a seat?"

He mentions "the Girls" Bum and Droogle Corps; and identifying him with Communism.

It was done with some subtlety, and the method quotes Julian Huxley as imploring "will nobody pat my became a standard Nixon practice Patrick O'Donovan hiccup?" for "will nobody pick my hat up?"

Mark Twain's favorite zeugma was:

"Once I knew a man who didn't have a tooth in his developing technique of lightly smearing an opponent with Communism." Mr. Voorhis was an idealist and a head, but he could beat a drum louder than anybody I liberal, who once as a youth had registered as a socialist, ever saw."

No matter; Mr. Nixon won in 1946 and served in the House for four years. There his native shrewdness at political manipulation became evident. He became a member of the House Un-American Activities and, through the Hiss case and other proceedings, developed his reputation as a great Red hunter. By 1950 he was ready to take on Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas. Secure in his belief that communism was an excellent issue, he used it to beat Mrs. Douglas for the Senate.

Mrs. Douglas was a liberal who, like Mr. Voorhis, had fought powerful California oil interests, so Mr. Nixon had plenty of financial support when he decided to oppose her. It was in this campaign that his opponents first called Mr. Nixon "Tricky Dick." Communism was big in American politics that year. Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin latched on to it and began his crusade against "Communists in Government." It was a sinister (and phony) issue in Florida, Oklahoma, Maryland, Utah and North Carolina, as well as in California.

In the campaign against Mrs. Douglas the Nixon forces put out a "Pink Sheet" linking her voting record to that of an ultra - leftist in the House -- a classic example of imputing guilt by association. Mr. Nixon's southern California campaign manager called her "the pink lady."

Mr. Nixon said Mrs. Douglas had for six years "consistently supported the State Department's policy of appeasing Communism in Asia, which finally resulted in the Korean war." In fact, Mrs. Douglas had been denounced by the Russians as a "capitalist warmonger" and had become noted for supporting anti - Communist measures.

But no matter; the pink label stuck. Mr. Nixon went on to the Senate and after a couple of years there he was ready for the vice presidency. The story behind this ascent to new heights is one reason Chief Justice Warren, the former Republican Governor of California, is remaining on the bench. He mistrusts the man who may be President.

Gov. Warren, who had been GOP vice - presidential candidate in 1948, hoped in 1942 a Traf - Eisenhower deadlock might open the way for him to obtain the GOP presidential nomination. Mr. Nixon was a member of the California delegation, whose 70 votes were pledged to Gov. Warren until he released them. But through involved political intrigue, which the Warren forces called stab - in - the - back and double - cross undertaken to win the vice - presidential nomination, Mr. Nixon maneuvered the delegation toward Gen. Eisenhower. Gov. Warren, a blunt and honest man whose word is good, never forgave him.

These are only a few items from the earlier Nixon record. We would be the last to say the Republican presidential candidate is not now a different man. But a politician ought to stand on the whole record, not on merely the image he constructs for a particular election. Mr. Nixon's whole record cannot be forgotten by those who were adults when he made it; younger voters ought to take a good look at it before they go to the polls.

RENTS -- UP, UP AND AWAY

A front-page story in the New York Times of Sept. 27 announced that the cost of living in the nation's largest city had climbed by .8 per cent in August -- the largest one-month increase in 20 years. The figure for October -- which will not be available until next month -- may well be higher. Leases on the city's 700,000 non-rent - controlled apartments expire in October, and landlords are asking for rent increases of between 30 and 100 per cent for units built since 1947.

The high cost of shelter was a major factor in New York's August cost - of - living rise. The price of housing there went up by 1.5 per cent, or more than twice as much as any other single item. Rising mortgage interest rates in the city accounted for most of the increase.

Landlords hold the upper hand in New York at present. Of the 700,000 non - rent - controlled apartments built since 1947, most were erected just before 1963. Landlords purposely overbuilt at that time to avoid compliance with a new zoning law that in effect restricted maximum use of property and air space.

Landlords purposely overbuilt at that time to avoid compliance with a new zoning law that in effect restricted maximum use of property and air space.

Almost no new apartment buildings have been built in Manhattan since then. As a result, the going rate for a studio apartment -- New Yorkese for a large closet with a mini-kitchen and bathroom -- will climb from $180 to $225.

RENTS -- UP, UP AND AWAY

A front-page story in the New York Times of Sept. 27 announced that the cost of living in the nation's largest city had climbed by .8 per cent in August -- the largest one-month increase in 20 years. The figure for October -- which will not be available until next month -- may well be higher. Leases on the city's 700,000 non-rent - controlled apartments expire in October, and landlords are asking for rent increases of between 30 and 100 per cent for units built since 1947.

The high cost of shelter was a major factor in New York's August cost - of - living rise. The price of housing there went up by 1.5 per cent, or more than twice as much as any other single item. Rising mortgage interest rates in the city accounted for most of the increase.

Landlords hold the upper hand in New York at present. Of the 700,000 non - rent - controlled apartments built since 1947, most were erected just before 1963. Landlords purposely overbuilt at that time to avoid compliance with a new zoning law that in effect restricted maximum use of property and air space.

restricted maximum use of property and air space.

Almost no new apartment buildings have been built in Manhattan since then. As a result, the going rate for a studio apartment -- New Yorkese for a large closet with a mini-kitchen and bathroom -- will climb from $180 to $225.

Our people should not be deluded into thinking that studio apartment -- New Yorkese for a large closet with a mini-kitchen and bathroom -- will climb from $180 to $225.

There are a few flaws in the community's fabric.

For one thing the city failed to reach its United Fund goal last year. It fell far short of reaching a fund raising goal for an addition to the Missouri Delta Community hospital. The community's support to Recovery Inc., to improve housing in Sikeston, has not been as robust as it might be.

In the glow of the statewide recognition given our community by the five - star award, citizens might well reflect on their deficiencies and then resolve to do better.

Our future is bright if all citizens unite to build a better community but more effort and dedication are required than have been expended in the past.

The award will achieve a constructive result if it kindles a better community spirit.

If it merely bolsters our ego the benefit will be short, lived and relatively empty.

THE EARLY TIMES OF RICHARD NIXON

In talking with a young Republican the other day we suddenly realized that this first - time voter was supporting the Richard M. Nixon of 1968 - the polished and rather shadowy statesman who stands above the fray wife's voice and grocery prices are rising."

Moving them to some choice spoonerisms, Mr. Wagner submits: "Shook a tower" for "took a shower." "A 22-year - old voter was just being born the year Mr. Nixon blushing crow" for "crushing blow." "May I sew you to a beat Representative Jerry Voorhis of California by sheet," for "may I show you to a seat?"

He mentions "the Girls" Bum and Droogle Corps; and identifying him with Communism.

It was done with some subtlety, and the method quotes Julian Huxley as imploring "will nobody pat my became a standard Nixon practice Patrick O'Donovan hiccup?" for "will nobody pick my hat up?"

Mark Twain's favorite zeugma was:

"Once I knew a man who didn't have a tooth in his developing technique of lightly smearing an opponent with Communism." Mr. Voorhis was an idealist and a head, but he could beat a drum louder than anybody I liberal, who once as a youth had registered as a socialist, ever saw."

No matter; Mr. Nixon won in 1946 and served in the House for four years. There his native shrewdness at political manipulation became evident. He became a member of the House Un-American Activities and, through the Hiss case and other proceedings, developed his reputation as a great Red hunter. By 1950 he was ready to take on Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas. Secure in his belief that communism was an excellent issue, he used it to beat Mrs. Douglas for the Senate.

Mrs. Douglas was a liberal who, like Mr. Voorhis, had fought powerful California oil interests, so Mr. Nixon had plenty of financial support when he decided to oppose her. It was in this campaign that his opponents first called Mr. Nixon "Tricky Dick." Communism was big in American politics that year. Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin latched on to it and began his crusade against "Communists in Government." It was a sinister (and phony) issue in Florida, Oklahoma, Maryland, Utah and North Carolina, as well as in California.

In the campaign against Mrs. Douglas the Nixon forces put out a "Pink Sheet" linking her voting record to that of an ultra - leftist in the House -- a classic example of imputing guilt by association. Mr. Nixon's southern California campaign manager called her "the pink lady."

Mr. Nixon said Mrs. Douglas had for six years "consistently supported the State Department's policy of appeasing Communism in Asia, which finally resulted in the Korean war." In fact, Mrs. Douglas had been denounced by the Russians as a "capitalist warmonger" and had become noted for supporting anti - Communist measures.

But no matter; the pink label stuck. Mr. Nixon went on to the Senate and after a couple of years there he was ready for the vice presidency. The story behind this ascent to new heights is one reason Chief Justice Warren, the former Republican Governor of California, is remaining on the bench. He mistrusts the man who may be President.

Gov. Warren, who had been GOP vice - presidential candidate in 1948, hoped in 1942 a Traf - Eisenhower deadlock might open the way for him to obtain the GOP presidential nomination. Mr. Nixon was a member of the California delegation, whose 70 votes were pledged to Gov. Warren until he released them. POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Sikeston to its everlasting credit is now a five - star city - the second in the state to receive this hard earned distinction.

Joplin was the first.

The award by the state division of commerce and industrial development will help Sikeston attract new industry. It should be a source of pride to existing industry and citizens. It should help the city attract new residents.

The award itself is of secondary value. What was required to win it is the important thing.

Now that Sikeston has the distinction it should strive to be worthy of keeping it and be eager to forge ahead in now, desirable directions.

Our people should not be deluded into thinking that Utopia has arrived and has been accorded statewide recognition.

There are a few flaws in the community's fabric.

For one thing the city failed to reach its United Fund goal last year. It fell far short of reaching a fund raising goal for an addition to the Missouri Delta Community hospital. The community's support to Recovery Inc., to improve housing in Sikeston, has not been as robust as it might be.

But even those who do strike it rich end up paying out more than they might have imagined. New York magazine recently (Sept. 30, 1968) cited, as a not very unusual example, an 11-room co-op apartment in a "good - but - not - great" East Side building which sold for $90,000 in 1964. Just last month, after $8,000 in improvements, the same apartment was resold for $250,000.

Not much has been said that the efforts by union professionals to impose compulsory unionism on unwilling agricultural workers through a boycott of California table grapes have been bitterly denounced by the workers themselves.

Jose Mendoza of the Agricultural Workers Freedom To Work Association who oppose the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee (AFL-CIO) in its attempt to force compulsory unionism has been touring the country telling the story from the viewpoint of the workers themselves. He called on Mayor Iius Davis of Kansas City, but the Mayor felt the pressure of his city's labor bosses and weakly affirmed his boycott stand.

Both the immediate and the long-range interests of the public can best be served through more intensive multiple use of public and private lands, a spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers recently stated.

The fact is that California public officials have stated the boycott is an attempt to compel employers to force farm workers to join the United Farm Workers against their wishes.

And now there is a strong movement in California to legislate a Right To Work law so this won't happen again.

(3) Be Sure That Your Source of Information Is Reliable. God's revealed word is the only infallible source of religious truth. The Bible writers were inspired of God. They could not be, therefore, in what they spoke by the guidance of the Holy Spirit. The scriptures are God-breathed, perfect, and all-sufficient as a guide for man in his search for forgiveness and the hope of eternal life. (2 Tim. 3:16-17).

(4) Recognize That It Does Not Lie Within Our Providence To Change That Which The Word Of God Teaches. Be content with what you find in the Bible. It is possible for parents to be wrong. Remember too, that even men who are called "preachers and rabbis, etc." have no authority at all to bind upon you any tradition or commandment of men. They are men, but the author of the Bible is God. The Bible alone makes known the will of God for you. It is perfect; you are not.

(5) Do Not Allow Anyone To Hinder Your Obedience To The Truth. A soul (yours) is too valuable. The gospel of Christ is God's power to save. (Rom. 1:16). Your concern must be, "What does Christ teach me to do to have remission of sins?" His will, is, FAITH, REPENTANCE, CONFESION, AND BAPTISM for the remission of sins. (Mk. 16:15-16 Acts 2:38; Rom. 10:10; Acts 22:16; Rom. 6:3-4) Let no one dissuade you from obeying the Author of eternal salvation (Heb. 5:8-9). All who seek salvation in this way will find it. THE TRUTH WILL MAKE YOU FREE.

Parkway West
Reclassified

COLUMBIA — The Missouri State High School Activities Association announced today that Parkway West High School was being reassigned from District 4 in the AAA classification to District 3 in the AAAA classification.

Parkway High opened for the first time this year and the football classification card gave 992 as the enrollment, which caused it to be placed in Class AAA. However, this is the actual enrollment of grades 10, 11, and 12. Classification is based on the enrollment in grades 9 through 12.

The school made the discovery and reported it to the MSHSAA Office. An additional 227 ninth grade students enrolled in the junior high school should have been included with the school's enrollment, which would place it in Class AAAA.

The matter has been called to the attention of the Board of Control. It was noted that the error was inadvertent as a result of the new school opening and that it was reported to the MSHSAA Office by the school itself. The Board ruled that under the circumstances no consideration should be given to disqualification and the school should be reassigned to the proper geographical district, District 3, in Class AAAA.

Cape Girardeau Central will visit Bulldog country at 7:30 p.m. tonight and challenge the Dogs homecoming festivities.

Taking a look around the district, we see a few other top attractions—Charleston's visit to East Prairie and Chaffee playing host to Malden.

While we prepare to go into our trance to call tonight's scores . . . we'll leave you with this reminder . . . don't go on what we say!

Here we are . . . in good view above tonight's action and in the first game we see taking shape is . . .

Malden at Chaffee — A conference clash that both need to win if they don't want to finish at the bottom of the southern division standings. We think the Red Devils are too much for the improved Green Wave to take. Chaffee 21, Malden 14.

South Pemiscot at Cherry Valley — We know nothing of the host . . . as a matter of fact we don't even know where it is located, but we do know about the Bulldogs. South Pemiscot 19, Cherry Valley 7.

Perryville at Kennett — Can anyone's team stop the Pirates? We don't know, but we'll bet they'll continue in the unbeaten column for at least another week. Perryville 35, Kennett 13.

St. Vincents at Jackson — Leo said he doesn't think the visitors can take the Indians, so we'll go along with our office partner. Jackson 24, St. Vincents 14.

Charleston at East Prairie — Another defeat is in the making for the Eagles tonight. Charleston takes pride in putting on their neighbors. Charleston 35, East Prairie 7.

Portageville at Caruthersville 13.

The Bulldogs will remain undefeated after tonight's confrontation with the Tigers. It looks like a perfect season for the Dogs. Perryville 27, Kennett 13.

Poplar Bluff 21, Dexter 0.

Cape Central as Sikeston — We saved their dilly until the last. Neither team can settle for a tie and neither team wants to settle for a loss. We think it might end in a deadlock, but we'll jump on the homecoming bandwagon. Sikeston 20, Cape 19.

See you at the game . . .

Tigers Expected to Handle K-State

By The Associated Press

Whether it's the altitude, the psychology or Colorado's hard-nosed attitude toward them, the Oklahoma Sooners have never found Boulder, Colo., a fun place to play football. Saturday promises to be no different.

Oklahoma invades Boulder once more Saturday to meet this year's Buffalo challenge the top Big Eight game of the week. Other games have Kansas at Iowa State, Missouri at Kansas State and Nebraska at Oklahoma State.

An Oklahoma victory would appear essential if the Sooners are to repeat as Big Eight champions, since OU still must play Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

And, Colorado — which has lost to Missouri but won two other league games — can entertain serious thoughts of making a run for the title if the Buffs can upend the Sooners.

"It's a very important game for both teams," Oklahoma Coach Church Fairbanks says. "Colorado has been the most difficult team for Oklahoma over the last 10 years. I'm sure this year will be no different."

An all-time Colorado home attendance record of 18,000 is possible, and the big crowd could see some offensive fireworks. Colorado exploded for a 37-14 victory over Kansas State last week, accumulating 538 yards in the process.

Oklahoma walloped Iowa State 42-7 as Steve Owens rushed for 175 yards and scored four touchdowns.

Kansas, third-ranked nationally and unbeaten and untied in five games, isn't expected to encounter undue difficulty at Iowa State. With Bobby Douglass directing the league's most prolific offense, the Jayhawks are heavy favorites to post victory No. 6.

Likewise, Missouri — which is tied with Kansas for the Big Eight lead with 2-0 records — is expected to handle Kansas State. The Tigers won a big one last week in downing Nebraska 16-14 at Lincoln, and K-State does not appear to have enough offense to seriously challenge the rock-like Tiger defense, which has allowed only 43 points.

Both Nebraska and Oklahoma State hope to climb off the deck and do some damage the rest of the way in the Big Eight race. The Cornhuskers lost two straight conference games at home — to Kansas and Missouri. OSU, with the league's top passing team, plays at home for the first time this season after four straight on the road.

COLUMBIA — Fundamentals and execution have become the by-words during Missouri's first two weeks of basketball practice.

"We're going to work hard on our accuracy from the start," Coach Norm Stewart said. "We must cut down on our mistakes if we wish to improve this year."

Last season, Stewart's first at M.U., the Bengals jumped from the Big Eight cellar to a sixth-place finish with a 5-9 record and a 10-16 overall slate.

The Tigers lost seven lettermen off that team and have five returning plus reserve forward Jim Chapman who lettered two years ago. Mizzou's 1968-69 edition will be lean in depth.

The "Surrey with the Fringe on the Top" was responsible for the pneumatic tire. The first air-inflated tires appeared on this four-wheeled vehicle in 1895. The tire manufacturer doubted that there would ever be enough demand for the horseless carriage to warrant the cost of tires, so he refused to make the first air-inflated tires for the horseless carriage until the dies were paid for.

For the complete display of the changes that made transportation history, a visit to the Harold Warp Pioneer Village at Minden, in south central Nebraska is a must.

The main girder in the Sikeston framework seems to be 235-pound Charlie Johnson. Johnson fills the position of tackle for the freshmen Dogs, and is a substantial threat to any runner when he's playing on defense. Bobo Ralph, a freshman guard, has yet to play one game with the freshman squad. Ralph has dressed for every varsity game to date, and has been putting his 181 pounds to good use for the varsity.

Kenny Barrett has been filling the quarterback position for the freshman Dogs, and has led them to one victory over the Jackson freshmen 7-6. The freshman dogs have lost their other two games, one to Cape, 6-0, and the other with the Kennett Indians, 29-26.

On the Thursday following the game with Poplar Bluff, the freshmen Dogs will host the Charleston Bluejays for a junior edition of the traditional battle between the Sikeston varsity and the Charleston varsity. The freshmen hope for a triumph equal to that of the Sikeston varsity over Charleston, 1966.

Each Green Bay Packer pocketed $22,960.96 for winning two games in Fenway Park with its limited capacity of 35,000. This year, with games at their own Busch Stadium, drawing 54,692 and Tiger Stadium in Detroit with a capacity of 53,634, the Cardinals got $7,078.71 for a full loss share.

The players, of course, participate in the money from only the first four games. Two per cent off the top, after the commissioner's 15 per cent, goes to the two fifth-place teams. The rest of the player pool—60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games—goes to the first, second, third and fourth place teams.

The records for winning and losing shares are held by the Los Angeles Dodgers, $12,794 for winning in 1963 and $8,189.36 as losers in 1966.

The Tigers and Cards each voted 32 full shares with a variety of partial shares and cash awards. Five Cards who got full shares already are gone. Catcher John Edwards was traded to Hank Bauer.

Third money was $1,290.48 for Cleveland in the American and $1,267.89 for the Chicago Cubs in the National. Fourth place full shares were $632.48 for Cincinnati in the National and $593.42 for Boston in the American.

The New York Yankees, who used to live it up every winter on full winning shares, happily settled for fifth place and $243.59. Fifth was worth $228.51 for each Atlanta Braves in the National.

Amendment Attention

Focuses on Bond Vote

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Of amendment agree, two proposed constitutional Sponsors said when the 1967 changes up for voter legislature passed the measure consideration Nov. 5, one is that it would not change the receiving a good deal of Missouri cost. But opponents said it attention—mostly from the would make it easier for public schools—and the other is authorities to increase the levy, largely ignored.

The first would lower the approval of tax accountants and voting majority needed for others who deal in income tax general obligation and revenue reports.

The first proposition has drawn resounding acclaim from the use, by reference, of federal school boards and others who regulations in imposition of the task of submitting school bond issues time after time, because voters have refused to give two-thirds support to a school bond issue.

It would reduce from two-thirds (66 2/3) to 60 per cent the margin necessary to approve a general obligation bond issue. And it would reduce from the present four-sevenths to a simple majority the margin needed for revenue bonds.

Having the same phrases mean the same thing in both reports would make the whole unhappy business of paying taxes just a little less troublesome, backers of the primarily, these bonds are for such things as industrial plants, municipal utilities and sewer systems—the sort of things that pay their own way.

In Missouri voters have generally gone along with bond issues that produce an immediate improvement—such as a revenue bond issue to produce a plant for lease to an industrial firm.

But there's been a lot less enthusiasm for something so abstract as additional classrooms for a school.

The Division of Commerce and Industrial Development says there never has been a failure to approve an industrial development bond issue in Missouri during recent division activity.

On the other hand, some crucial bond school bond issues have failed as many as seven or eight times. School people say the educational product has suffered at the same pace.

"Eskimo" is a misnomer, the National Geographic says. Though the northlanders prefer cooked meat, they bear an Indian name meaning "eater of raw flesh."

Females May

Be Added to

Sealab Project

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference Thursday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical seal hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future underwater workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, Navy commander who spent a record 30 days in Sealab 2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla, Calif., in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

It is, if you see other women whispering behind your back and you just know they're discussing your age. It is, if you are looking even a tiny bit older than your husband. It is, if your husband no longer brings you flowers as frequently as he used to. Then, this IS the moment for you to discover the wonders that 2nd Début is capable of performing on skin of most any age past 30.

CFF is a principal active ingredient of 2nd Début. CFF is the synthetic counterpart of a natural material present in normal human skin. CFF, as employed in 2nd Début is made available in two specially prepared strengths for twice daily topical application to facial skin of age 30 or older. 2nd Début (with CFF 600) contains enough concentration of CFF for the woman whose age is hovering around 40. Its price is $3 for 4 ounces. 2nd Début with CFF 1200, double potency, is especially prepared for the skin of age 50, or older. However 2nd Début (with CFF 1200) is used with great success and satisfaction by many younger grand dames who enjoy indulging their personal impatience, or when their time is of the essence. The price is $5 for 4 ounces. Regardless of circumstances, however, when the objective is a smoother, less lined, fresher, more youthful-looking facial skin, 2nd Début is now a favorite most everywhere.

Hearnes, Roos Wage Active Campaigns

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri's Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes is trying to stave off the challenge of Republican Lawrence K. Roos and become the first governor in Missouri history to be elected to two consecutive terms.

The first year of his term, Hearnes got the voters at a 1965 special election to change the Constitution so a governor could succeed himself. Since then he has worked hard at building a political organization that would let him make that kind of history.

Hearnes, 65, is a lawyer from Charlestown in the heavily Democratic Bootheel of southeastern Missouri. Roos, 50, is a banker and serving his second term as St. Louis County supervisor in the state's largest voting unit.

The county has about 400,000 registered voters this time.

Hearnes said originally his goal was to beat Roos on his home grounds and carry the county. More recently he has dropped that line because, he says, people accuse him of boasting.

Both have campaigned hard, criss-crossing the state numerous times. In the final weeks Roos took to helicopter to reach hamlets he had missed earlier.

Republicans are counting on a big sweep by Richard M. Nixon to help them carry their state tickets.

Some estimates have placed the Wallace vote as high as 20 to 25 per cent of the total. Hearnes says Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would have to regain Wallace defectors in the rank and file of labor to carry the state.

Four years ago Hearnes won nomination and election by battling what he called the "Establishment," a group of longtime Democratic leaders concentrated around the Central Missouri Trust Co. of Jefferson City.

This time Roos has charged Hearnes has built his own "Establishment" of patronage employees and politically obligated people around the state.

Kansas City Negro members of a group called Freedom Inc. deserted Hearnes after he called out the National Guard and the highway patrol to quell a riot there last April, but the governor and pointed to his record of new mental institutions, more state aid for schools and colleges, attracting new industry, setting up new departments of community affairs and tourism, etc.

St. Louis Negroes have been less outspoken because they are trying to elect their first Missouri congressman and need white Democratic votes.

Neither candidate has discussed the fiscal problems that will face the winner — how to raise more money to keep things going.

Hearnes, Roos Wage Active Campaigns

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri's Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes is trying to stave off the challenge of Republican Lawrence K. Roos and become the first governor in Missouri history to be elected to two consecutive terms.

The first year of his term, Hearnes got the voters at a 1968 special election to change the Constitution so a governor could succeed himself. Since then he has worked hard at building a political organization that would let him make that kind of history.

Hearnes, 45, is a lawyer from Charleston in the heavily Democratic Bootheel of southeastern Missouri. Roos, 50, is a banker and serving his second term as St. Louis County supervisor in the state's largest voting unit.

The county has about 400,000 registered voters this time. Hearnes has challenged the validity of the Roos statistics.

Hearnes said originally his goal was to beat Roos on his home grounds and carry the county. More recently he has dropped that line because, he says, people accused him of boasting.

With Roos as their candidate for governor and Rep. Thomas B. Curtis their nominee for U. S. senator, Republicans claim they have their most attractive ticket in years and have mounted a well-financed campaign.

Roos concedes he started the campaign in second place but contends his attacks on Hearnes' administration have brought him within striking distance of victory. He has relied heavily on statistics to show that Missouri has lagged behind other states in education, mental health, urban affairs, industrial development, recreation, transportation and so on.

DEAR LITTLE ONE
If some day in the future
You chance to be born.
I hope its in the spring time
On a lovely April morn.

New life comes then to
everything
The flowers bud and
bloom
This Worlds a wonderful
place to be.

As you'll be learning soon.
Your Dad and Mom will
be so proud.

Their hearts will nearly burst.
They'll weep with joy when
you arrive.

For you will be their first You'll smile and coo and
everyone.

Will think you are so sweet
And the Daddy who waited
oh so long
Will agree you can't be beat.

As you wind them around
your finger
Entwine yourself in their
heart
They'll learn the meaning of
real love.

For you'll be just a start
Of all the happiness they
will know.

They'll think it can't be true
You'll fill their hearts with so much love
As they share their life with
you

Each Nite as you kneel
by your bed.

MY GUY
This guy so grand I'm speaking of.
None other could replace.
He has a spot deep in my heart.
That nothing could erase.

He's stood by me through said.
thick and thin
Always by my side
Ever there when I need advise.
Has always been my guide

Never cross but always firm
With those he loves so well.
He makes our home a happy place.

Where in we all do dwell.

He's stuck with me this he knows.

In sickness or in health
I wouldn't ever trade him
For all of this worlds wealth.

I hope I'm never called upon

To see him go away
My joy and happiness would be gone.
Forever on that day.

He soothes me when I'm worried.
Brings laughter when I'm him most.
This guy, my son, calls Dad.

DEAR LITTLE ONE
If some day in the future
You chance to be born,
I hope its in the spring time
On a lovely April morn.

New life comes then to
everything

The flowers bud and
bloom

This world's a wonderful
place to be.

As you'll be learning soon.

Your Dad and Mom will
be so proud.

Their hearts will nearly burst.

They'll weep with joy when
you arrive

For you will be their first

You'll smile and coo and
everyone.

Will think you are so sweet

And the Daddy who waited
oh so long

Will agree you can't be beat.

As you wind them around
your finger

Entwine yourself in their
heart

They'll learn the meaning of
real love.

For you'll be just a start

Of all the happiness they
will know.

They'll think it can't be true

You'll fill their hearts with so
much love

As they share their life with
you

Each Nite as you kneel
by your bed.

VOTE FOR

March 24. From left are the Rev. Joseph H. Wagner, pastor; Mrs. Keith Collins, church trustee; Ziegenhorn; Judge Craig; and Jack Hogan, chairman of the official board.

To say your good nite
prayer.

I hope your Dad and Mother
both

Will kneel down by you
there.

With a good nite kiss they'll tuck you in

And thank their God above

That he sent you to be their own

For them to raise and love.

THE VOTING ROLL

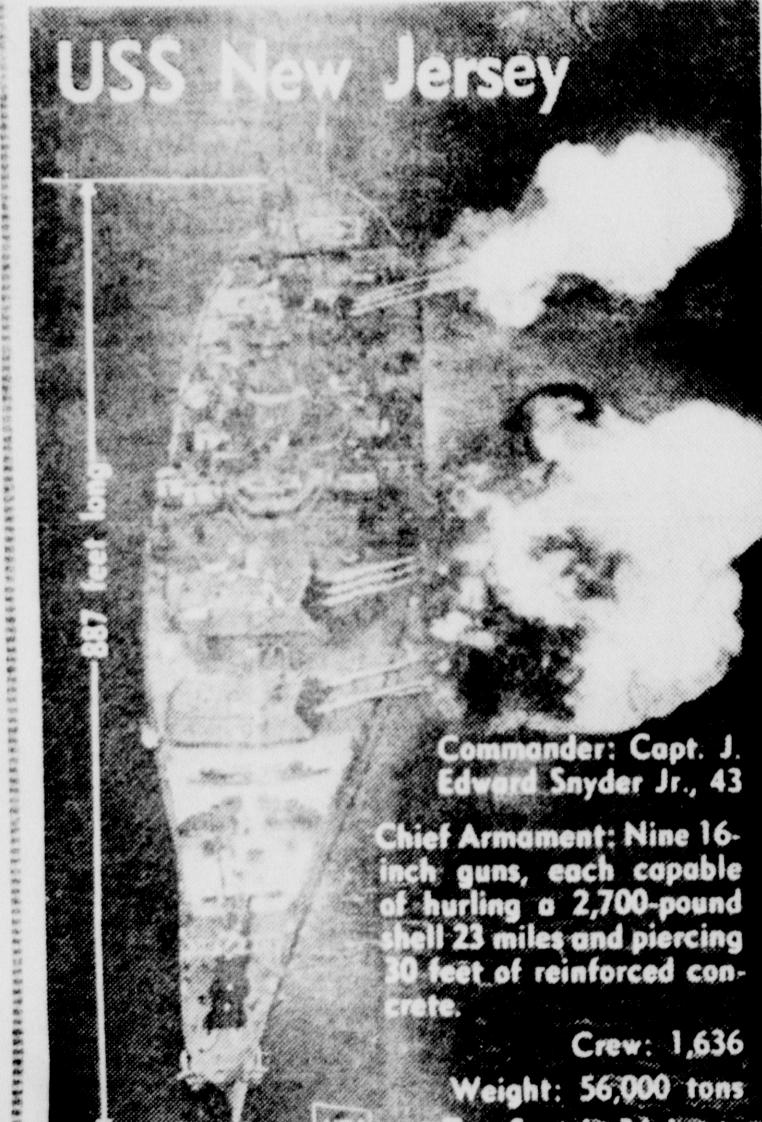

FIGURES IN MILLIONS

Census Bureau figures show the number of potentially eligible voters in the 1964 election is up seven million over 1964, when 62 per cent of eligible voters cast ballots. The same percentage this year would bring the total vote to a record 74 million.

CLOSE QUARTERS are shared by three singers appearing in the London production of the controversial musical, "Hair." Perhaps putting three girls into one dress makes it easier for them to participate in the strip scene later in the show.

Commander: Capt. J. Edward Snyder Jr., 43

Chief Armament: Nine 16-inch guns, each capable of hurling a 2,700-pound shell 23 miles and piercing 30 feet of reinforced concrete.

Crew: 1,636
Weight: 56,000 tons
Top Speed: 34 knots

The battleship New Jersey, America's mightiest warship and the only battleship in the world on active duty, is now serving in Vietnam. Launched Dec. 7, 1942, it saw World War II and Korean conflict service, winning 13 battle stars before being decommissioned. Recently reactivated, the great battleship went into action against North Vietnamese positions above the Demilitarized Zone. In 3½ minutes, the New Jersey can equal the destruction of 60 bombing planes.

How to Stitch Up a Second Skin

PATTERNS USING small pieces, such as this pantskirt and vest, are good choices when using real leather. For vinyl a minimum of seams is advisable. (Sketches courtesy of the Singer Co.)

By AP NEWSFEATURES

All fashion-conscious women will be sisters under the skin this year. And that skin will be either the real thing—leather—or its man-made counterpart, leather-look vinyl.

With both these materials available in department stores throughout the country, home dressmakers can be right in style in their own creations. Since sewing techniques vary somewhat from those used with ordinary fabrics, experts (at the Singer Company) offer tips on how to achieve best results.

—SELECTING A PATTERN: Because of the shape and varying size of leather skins, such fashions should have a number of seams, using patterns with many small pieces rather than a few large ones. Be sure all skins match in color and texture. For vinyl choose simple, straight-line designs with a minimum number of seams. Raglan sleeves are most suitable because vinyl cannot be eased sufficiently for set-in sleeves or those with gussets.

—COLLARS AND FACINGS: For both leather and vinyl, interface with a fine, lightweight fabric (organdy, nonwoven interfacing, etc.).

—SEAMS: For leather, place pre-shrunk seam tape on top and facings, use rubber cement or fabric tape through the machine, ric-rac for leather. Fabric-backed leather should not be stretched as vinyl hems are usually machine-stitched. When the seam is finished, snip the tape at intervals to fold. They can also be done by hand along the edge. Press with a damp hand, catching stitches in fabric cloth and hot iron on wrong side, back only.

—PRESSING: Leather can be pressed with a damp cloth.

Plain seams on vinyl usually will not press open to give a sharp edge. Test a scrap first. Vinyl held with fabric glue or rubber cement should be satisfactorily pressed.

—PUSHING: Pushing along both sides of a plain seam will hold it sharply.

—JOINING TO CLOTH: When joining cloth and leather or vinyl, always stitch with the cloth on top.

—HEMS: To anchor hems and seams

through the machine, ric-rac for leather. Fabric-backed leather should not be stretched as vinyl hems are usually machine-stitched. When the seam is finished, snip the tape at intervals to fold. They can also be done by hand along the edge. Press with a damp hand, catching stitches in fabric cloth and hot iron on wrong side, back only.

Raglan sleeves are most suitable because vinyl cannot be eased sufficiently for set-in sleeves or those with gussets.

—ALTERING THE PATTERN: For both leather and vinyl, alter the paper pattern before cutting, and trim the seam allowance to 3/8-inch.

—PINNING THE PATTERN: Pin marks will show, so pin within the seam allowance. For leather, select the most uniform skins for fronts and sleeves, laying the pattern pieces on a single layer of skins, either all lengthwise or all crosswise. For vinyl, follow the pattern diagram for fabric layout.

—CUTTING: Use sharp scissors and clip notches outward. Make darts and other lines on the wrong side with tailor's chalk. Baste carefully before stitching. (Pin-baste within seam allowance.)

—SEWING: Sew leather with a special narrow wedge-shaped sewing machine needle (available at Singer Centers). Stitch length should be 8-10 stitches per inch; thread should be no. 50 embroidery, no. 100 cotton, or synthetic.

Sew vinyl with a size 14 needle and set stitch length selector at 8 or 10, or attachment-worked buttonholes.

Thread should be no. 50 mercerized.

To the Editor:

Candidates at all levels, both federal and local, are seeking your vote. Would it not be worth while to ask each one a simple question, which is - If you are elected to office, what if anything, do you propose to do to reduce government spending?

Then if your conscience doesn't bother you, let your you enter the polling place.

P.S. You can check the voting record of those who are running for re-election to see if what they propose to do today agrees with what they did in the past. Unfortunately some folks today are a little loose with the truth. - J.F.

Cancer Patient Tells What To Say and Not to Say

Dear Ann Landers: A few months ago I had surgery for a malignant tumor. The surgery was followed by cobalt treatments. My physicians are very optimistic and so am I - until some thoughtless person says something. Please publish these suggestions for family and acquaintances of individuals who have had cancer treatment.

1. If the patient wishes to discuss his illness he will bring up the subject. If nothing is said, keep quiet.

2. Avoid such remarks as, "You are lucky. A neighbor of mine had exactly what you have and they had to cut out his tongue and vocal cords."

3. Don't tell about Mr. So-and-So who had suffered with cancer for years but "never lost his sense of humor."

4. Be cheerful. Many people recover from cancer. If you know of someone who did, mention it. Such reports can be

POLLY'S POINTERS

Odd Pieces of Ribbon Make a Nice Bedspread

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—A reader wanted to know how she could use up a lot of ribbons. My mother used to make bedspreads out of odd pieces. She washed and pressed them, if necessary, so they were fresh and new-looking. Sew enough strips together to make the length of the bed or the length the spread should be. The ribbons might be all the same color or mixed colors. After enough of these strips of the proper length are sewed together to make the width you want, make a border to go all around the edges. The border should be made of two widths of ribbons. They are most effective made of two colors that appear in the ribbons used for the main body of the spread—MRS. C. W. N.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Surely some of the Polly Pointers readers have been confronted with a problem similar to mine. How can one tactfully cope with a neighbor who borrows chronically, one who neglects to return a pizza pan, portable sewing machine or hoe until it is needed and then one must go to retrieve it? Or, if they do make a return, it will be a stick of margarine for the stick of butter that was borrowed—NELI.

DEAR POLLY—My grandchildren used to play with my sofa pillows and they would get pretty dirty. I made some that the children know they can drag around to their hearts content. Sew two large washcloths together and fill them with old clear nylons. You have pillows that can be thrown into the washer and will dry in a jiffy. My daughter has made some, too, so I hope other mothers with small tots will try this and save their good sofa pillows—ROSE.

DEAR POLLY—I used to have trouble measuring the correct amount of fabric softener to take to the laundromat. We buy it in gallon containers. Now I simply use one of the baby's bottles as a measuring cup that I take right with me—NANCY.

DEAR POLLY—I love the Polly's Pointers and use many of them. While traveling, we often stay in motels where there may be a refrigerator but no ice trays. We carry a portable ice chest in our car, so we take small paper cups and fill as many with water as can stand upright in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator. The next morning they will be frozen solid. Take them out of the refrigerator, let stand a few minutes and they will easily drop out of the waxed cups. Save the cups and use at the next such place. Of course, the ice goes into our ice chest in the car—MRS. L. M. C.

DEAR POLLY—So often the directions on a package read to beat for three minutes. I find it is much easier using my three-minute sand egg timer than to watch the kitchen clock—MRS. C. C.

DEAR POLLY—This is for the gal who lives alone and has no one standing by to zip her up. Put your dress on backwards, zip it shut part way up. Turn it around and the rest is easy—HILDA.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Odd Pieces of Ribbon Make a Nice Bedspread

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—A reader wanted to know how she could use up a lot of ribbons. My mother used to make bedspreads out of odd pieces. She washed and pressed them, if necessary, so they were fresh and new-looking. Sew enough strips together to make the length of the bed or the length the spread should be. The ribbons might be all the same color or mixed colors. After enough of these strips of the proper length are sewed together to make the width you want, make a border to go all around the edges. The border should be made of two widths of ribbons. They are most effective made of two colors that appear in the ribbons used for the main body of the spread—MRS. C. W. N.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Surely some of the Polly Pointers readers have been confronted with a problem similar to mine. How can one tactfully cope with a neighbor who borrows chronically: one who neglects to return a pizza pan, portable sewing machine or hoe until it is needed and then one must go to retrieve it? Or, if they do make a return, it will be a stick of margarine for the stick of butter that was borrowed—NELL.

DEAR POLLY—My grandchildren used to play with my sofa pillows and they would get pretty dirty. I made some that the children know they can drag around to their hearts' content. Sew two large washcloths together and fill them with old clear nylons. You have pillows that can be thrown into the washer and will dry in a jiffy. My daughter has made some, too, so I hope other mothers with small tots will try this and save their good sofa pillows.—ROSE.

DEAR POLLY—I used to have trouble measuring the correct amount of fabric softener to take to the laundromat. We buy it in gallon containers. Now I simply use one of the baby's bottles as a measuring cup that I take right with me.—NANCY.
